Important to U.S.

TEL AVIV, Tuesday.—Israel is a bridgehead of democracy in the Middle East, and its survival is a matter of importance to the U.S., Governor John S. Fine of Pennsylvania toid the Press here tonight.

The Governor carefully avoided questions on American foreign policy and talked mostly of Israel. "In the U.S., we see Jews mainly as merchanta, and I am impressed to see them here as cont.con labourers," he said. He had enjoyed his visit to Becraheba and was sorry he would not have time to visit the deeper Negev.

He thought that Israel industry, as far as he had seen it, is a significant affair, and added that, in his view, while the people work and produce the country has nothing to fear. Tomorrow, Governor Fine will visit the Huleh drainage project.

Last night, he addressed the Israel-America Frien ds hip League on "American Politics Today." The things which unite the two countries," he said, "are strong enough to withstand any tension."

In Haifa

In Haifa
THREE violin sonatas by French composers who lived in roughly the same period, formed the programme at the Bet Ha'am Hail on Saturday, given by violinist I Melerowica, of Haifa, after a protracted rest from the concert stage, and pianist A Rudiakow of Tel Ayiv.
The former's tone is broad and pure and his approach to French music one of unaffected dignity.
Mr. Rudiakov cooperates perfectly with his partner, taking
